

8 New Patients Enter Hospital

New patients received during the past week at Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital were:

H. A. Adkins, 20, of Gardena, who was injured in an automobile accident on Monday; Gary Barkdull, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Barkdull of 1521 Beech street, on Tuesday for medical attention, and Mrs. Lila Busby, Manhattan Beach, on Friday for medical treatment.

Miss Clara Gahwolf of Gardena entered the institution Friday for surgical attention; Miss Fanny Kaniias of Los Angeles, was received Tuesday for an appendectomy; Miss Laura Magnante, 21008 Valerie street, last Thursday for an appendectomy; and Mrs. Faye Wilson, 732 Border Street, Saturday for medical care.

Fred A. Robinson of 1812 Gramercy street, foreman of the painting department of the Columbia Steel plant, who was injured recently at the plant, was returned from the Good Samaritan hospital in Los Angeles on March 31 to complete his convalescence here.

RAINS DELAY CROPS IN THIS AREA

Most vegetable, field crops and berries will be from three to four weeks late this year due to the prolonged rains and one or two cold nights during March that delayed planting of some crops and harvesting of others. Several warm days at the end of the month were advantageous to the advancement of all crops, although continued cold and wet weather caused additional losses from water-rot in navel oranges in some localities.

Almost none of the 1200 acres of asparagus had been harvested at the end of the month, due to unfavorable weather. Supplies of local cauliflower and cabbage are heavier than normal following rains that delayed harvesting. In some areas, land intended for grain was planted to beans and the bean acreage is much greater than for 1936.

The majority of packing houses finished the navel orange season this week, although in the far eastern part of the county the harvest will continue an additional two or three weeks. In some sections loss from water rot and drop of fruit overhauled injury from low temperatures. Diligent efforts by packing house managers has kept most of the injured fruit off the market.

Meglin Studio Officials Are Very Grateful

The large number of pupils already enrolled in the Torrance branch of the Ethel Meglin Studios, which was opened last Friday at the American Legion clubhouse, assures local patrons of the convenience of a permanent branch here, according to Bess Richardson, registrar.

"We are indeed very grateful for the hearty reception and welcome which was extended to us by Torrance people. The enthusiastic applause which followed the presentation of a number of Meglin students at the Kiwanis Club's 'Gay 90's' show is most gratifying," said Mrs. Caroline Hamilton, district manager.

Classes in dance, drama and voice are conducted every Friday in the American Legion clubhouse, 2252 Carson street, between the hours of 9:30 a. m. and 5:30 p. m.

'Hello Now—Goodby Now' Newlyweds

At left is Mrs. Nan Pierson Brooks, 24-year-old daughter of a New York steel executive, who has been creating a stir in California following attempts to annul her marriage of five days to William Hunsaker Brill, right, wealthy young sportsman. Deserted a night and a day after her Yuma, Ariz., marriage, Mrs. Brill raced to San Francisco in one of her husband's cars to avoid process servers. Then apparently she thought it over and decided to return to Los Angeles and fight the suit. "I know Bill loves me; I want to be his bride in more than name only," she said.

Previous Injury Causes Collapse

An injury to his spine some time ago which, police said, makes him subject to sudden periods of unconsciousness as result of any sudden movement, was responsible Tuesday afternoon for Richard Olsen, nine-year-old boy who lives at 1727 219th street collapsing at Carson street and Arlington avenue. He was revived by a physician and later treated at Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital before being taken to his home.

IMPROVES STEADILY—Wilbur (Bill) Acree, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Acree of 1747 Gramercy avenue, is reported making a good recovery from an emergency appendectomy performed last week at Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital.

ROLLING MILL WAREHOUSE IS VITAL PART OF STEEL PLANT

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following informative article appeared in the April number of the Torrance Steel Blade, monthly publication by Columbia Steel Company workers. It is reproduced here by special arrangement with Walter P. Wallace, editor of that interesting journal.)

By OWEN E. WEBSTER
May we take this opportunity to introduce the Rolling Mill Warehouse where go all the finished products of the 12-inch and 22-inch Rolling Mills, from which 24 hours a day is a constant movement of trucks and railroad cars? Last year there were shipped more than 80,000 tons of finished products, 50.6% more than any other previous year.

It is in the Warehouse that all the reconditioning, shearing and straightening of the mills' products take place. There these products, as they come from the mills, are inspected, stacked and marked to await orders for their shipment. Upon order they are sheared to the required length, reconditioned if necessary, put into bundles, checked and rechecked, and loaded onto cars or trucks for shipment. Even the loading must be done by skilled workmen to facilitate their safe transit.

Within an average working week, there leave the Warehouse more than 56 huge trucks, for an average 20-mile haul. From there, too, are shipped an average of 18 railroad cars. All this shipping goes on with a minimum of confusion and exceptional safety. As an example of the following record: Hours worked, 161,560, no lost-time accidents, 91 minor accidents, for an average of but .000563 accidents per man-hour worked.

This department is under the capable hands of C. W. Parks, ably assisted by genial Fred Woodall, who have banded together a corps of very capable foremen, leaders, inspectors, etc., to efficiently handle this tremendous volume of shipping which is going on 24 hours a day.

TAKES VACATION—Otis B. Wolpert assistant to Postmaster Birda Paddock in Lomita, will enjoy a week's vacation in the desert next week. He will take his second week's holiday later this summer. A temporary substitute will be employed to assist at the Lomita postoffice during his absence.

There are two versions of the origin of the name strawberry. Some experts claim that straw used to be laid between the rows to keep the fruit clean, and that was the reason for the name. Others tell us that it was originally strowberrie, then straberry, so named because of the straying suckers of the plant.

You should pronounce San Pedro as though it were spelled San Paydro. Never pronounce it San Pee-dro! You know, of course, that San Pedro means Saint Peter.

"Our greatest glory is not in never failing, but in rising every time we fall."

Someone, we do not remember who, once said, "a proverb is a mouthful of choicest meat, well seasoned."

QUESTIONS: This morning one smarty reader asked us this one: What was Buffalo Bill's real name? Strawberries are beginning to appear in some markets. How did the strawberry happen to be called strawberry?

ANSWERS: We know that Buffalo Bill's real name was, more than likely, William, and another member of the family remembered that his last name was Cody, but we looked it up to make sure. We found out that Buffalo Bill's full name was William F. Cody. When we discover what the F. stands for, we'll let you know.
